Footnotes:

I went with a pretty simplistic design for the sign up page to make the registration process non-distracting and straightforward. It should feel familiar and like something users have most likely seen before. I used a simple color scheme, with the specific colors coming from the brand's design choices.

Things that could potentially be added:

- A tag line under the logo
- Information about what the company is

Pre-Survey Screen

How much do you agree or disagree with the following statements:

There are no right or wrong answers — this just helps us guide you to the right booths and mentors.

	Strongly Disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly Agree
I feel confident recognizing scams or phishing attempts online.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
I know how to change privacy or security settings on my accounts.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
I sometimes feel unsafe participating in online spaces.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
I worry about my personal information being misused online.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
I prefer short, practical tutorials rather than technical lessons.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Footnotes:

I moved the company branding to the corner to keep the familiarity of the sign up screen. I used more of the brand colors provided to bring a light, enjoyable, and comforting feel to the survey page, as answering the questions might be stressful to some. I also added some reassurance that there is no pressure to answer “correctly”. Things that could potentially be improved:

- Better instructions
- Better way to fit the logo

Footnotes:
After the survey, matches are shown as cards. There is a 'Your Matches' section showing their current lessons, and a 'Past Lessons' section showing completed lessons. Completed lessons are further differentiated by being duller than active lessons. I added the brand logo as a placeholder for an image representing the lesson. Things that could potentially be added:

- A way to see more lessons if there are enough to go off the screen

Led by Instructor Jane Doe

Friday, October 3rd
1 p.m. - 2 p.m. MST

Join instructor Jane Doe in a step-by-step tutorial on adjusting your social media privacy settings and limiting potential unwanted content and contact.

Join Lesson

Footnotes:
This page shows what it would look like if the user clicked on one of the specific lessons they are matched to. Again, the logo is in place of the lesson picture. More information about the lesson will be available, with things like a description, time, instructor, and a 'join' button.

Things that could be added or improved:

- Not sure if all lessons will be live/Zoom based, so buttons could potentially change to things like 'Watch' or 'Start Lesson'
